Jane Doe

UC San Diego

Yearbook

Hey Jane,

I know I give you a hand time basically everyday, but I have to say it... I am so proud of you! You are literally my SUPERHERO. Seeing you try hard makes me want to do the same.

Even though you are off to do big things now, you are still stuck with me forever! Congrats, I love you, and please don't forget about me when you become WORLD'S No. 1 Scientist.

Your sister,
Mary

So many memories!

Jane,

I still cannot believe we survived four years at on iced coffee and questionable life choices! You were the person I called at midnight when something was funny and when something was not, and somehow you always knew which one it was. Thank you for being honest with me even when I did not want to hear it, and for laughing with me anyway. I am so proud of the person you have become. Do not forget that you are my person, no matter where we end up next <<3

Amy

We are graduating!

Im so proud of you!!!

My sweet Jane,

Watching you graduate fills me with more pride than I can put into words. You have worked so hard, and I have loved seeing you grow into the strong, thoughtful young woman you are today. Remember to take care of yourself, not just your grades and your plans. I will always be here cheering for you, no matter what comes next. I love you more than you know.

The road ahead is wide open, and while that can feel both exciting and overwhelming, I want you to know that you are more ready for it than you realize. Trust yourself the way I trust you. The kindness you show others, the curiosity you bring to everything you do, and the resilience you have shown through the hard moments - those are the things that will carry you furthest in life, far more than any title or achievement ever could.

Wherever this next chapter takes you, know that home is always here, and so is my love.

Love, Mom

BAM!

Jane,

congrats on graduating! I knew you would pull it off, even when you acted like you had not started studying yet. You made every group project less painful and every late night on campus a little more fun. I am glad we stayed friends through all the chaos. You are smart, kind, and way cooler than you give yourself credit for. Keep in touch - and yes, I still owe you that boba. 😊

Let's keep in touch!

Yours,

Tom
